DETAILED ACTION

1. The response filed on 11/30/2009 is acknowledged. However, upon review by the present Examiner, the instant set of claims requires an election of species.
2. It's noted that the previous rejections, if applicable, may still be maintained.

Election

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

4. The species are as follows:

- A) Cancer type (e.g., lung, prostate, bladder, colorectal, etc); and
- B) A further therapeutic agent (e.g. Asparaginase, Bleomycin, PSC 833, cytokines, Rituxan, etc.)

5. The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. Moreover, Chu (US 5817667; of record) teaches that troxacitabine can be used for treating various cancers such as prostate and the treatment can be combined with other agents such as chemotherapeutics (see column 11, lines 10-20). Lokich (Ann. Oncol., 1997; of record) suggests providing anticancer agents via continuous intravenous infusion for up to several months. Thus, the species of the invention lack a special technical feature as having been contemplated by the art and election is required.

6. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

7. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claim(s) are generic: 1, 37, 47 and 52.

Correction of Inventorship

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
